A MESSAGE

It is a great pleasure for me to welcome you to the University of Maryland. As freshmen, you are on the threshold of a most important phase of your development as an individual.

The administration, faculty and staff are dedicated to the task of giving you all possible assistance in your development and the State of Maryland has provided the physical facilities to insure that you have the best possible academic climate of learning.

How well you succeed in your educational endeavors during the next four years depends on how much personal effort you are willing to exert.

Your aims should be as high as your learning capacity will allow.

Good luck!

WILSON H. ELKINS
President

POINTS OF PRIDE

Each year the University is highly recognized for the outstanding academic achievements won by its students, faculty members, and facilities. The year 1965 is no exception, for again Maryland has won many honors.

Phi Beta Kappa: On December 16, 1964 a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, an academic society for students in liberal arts with a 3.5 overall average for their college career, was installed at the University.

Cyclotron: The University of Maryland was recognized for the excellence of its high energy physics faculty and program by an award from the Atomic Energy Commission for a 100 million volt cyclotron. This cyclotron was the only one granted to a university by the AEC during the past year. It represents a great monetary investment and will require two years to construct and install.

Guggenheim Fellowships: During 1965, four University of Maryland faculty members were awarded Guggenheim Fellowships. They were:

Paul K. Conkin, Associate Professor of History

Jack Colvard Jones, Professor of Entomology

Jerry B. Marion, Professor of Physics

George A. Snow, Professor of Physics

In respect to numbers of fellowships, the University is among the 18 leading institutions in the nation and is in a class with Brown University, the University of Texas and the University of Wisconsin.

Comparative Literature Studies: A quarterly publication of the Comparative Literature program, edited by Alfred Owen Aldridge, head of the department at Maryland, Comparative Literature Studies features articles contributed by eminent American and European scholars on literary history and the history of ideas. Through this journal the University has gained recognition in the United States and abroad as an outstanding literary center.

HISTORY

The University of Maryland began in Baltimore in 1807 as the University of Baltimore. The College of Medicine was the first school of the University.

The University grew in 1823 with the addition of the School of Law, the fourth law school opened in the United States.

In 1882 there was a high point in the University's history when the School of Dentistry was founded. This was the first such school in the world.

Louisa Parsons, with the cooperation of Florence Nightingale, instituted the School of Nursing in 1889.

The last addition to the Baltimore campus before it was united with the College Park branch was the College of Pharmacy in 1904. Since that time the College of Social Work has also been added.

The College Park campus began in 1856 when a group of southern Maryland farmers purchased the estate of Charles B. Calvert, Esquire, and founded the Maryland Agricultural College. It was financed by selling stock for $25.00 per share.

The College was the first school to benefit from the Morrill Land Grant Act passed by the United States Congress in 1863 and from subsequent federal aid to higher education. The College thus became in part a state institution.

Due to a disastrous fire in 1912 and a decrease in the enrollment because of the war, the College found it necessary to apply for further state aid. In 1914 the State Legislature bought all the stock in the College which then became the Maryland State College, a part of the State's educational system.

The University of Maryland was formed in 1920 when Maryland State College and the University of Baltimore were merged. Since then both campuses have expanded greatly with the acquirement of more land and the building of more administration buildings, class and laboratory buildings, dormitories and recreation facilities.

In 1949 the University established the College of Special and Continuation Studies in various countries of Europe. Students abroad are able, by this program, to further their studies.

TRADITIONS

The University of Maryland, as all colleges, abounds in traditions which help to create a treasure of memorable experiences to be remembered in later years by its students.

One of the first traditions a new student meets is the friendly atmosphere which makes the campus seem much smaller than it really is. A cheerful smile and a friendly "hello" are often seen and heard while walking between classes.

Students rush to class in order to arrive before the chapel chimes play "Maryland My Maryland" and ring out the hour before classes begin. Sometimes the walk is a little sloppier than usual as students splash across the mall after a rainstorm.

The Kappa Alpha Theta kite flying contest is an annual spring tradition to be remembered by students who worked long hours constructing their kites and then competed with others to see which kite flew the best.

Tray sliding is one of the newer traditions at the University. With snow on the slopes and plenty of trays (much to the dining hall's dismay) to go around, this winter sport has become very popular.

Naturally, since the University is in an historic area, there is a "someone slept here" house. Our "someone" was General Lafayette who visited at Rossborough Inn, the oldest building on campus, which is found on Baltimore Boulevard, and now serves as a faculty dining area.

Behind Rossborough Inn is the wishing well. As with other wishing wells, a penny brings good luck!

Testudo, Maryland's five hundred pound terrapin mascot, is perched on his pedestal in front of McKeldin Library. From there he watches students lounging, studying, and singing folk songs on the mall during beautiful fall and spring days.

The story of the University's traditions would not be complete without mention of the Kissing Tunnel. By tradition a couple must kiss on their first trip to this secluded spot which is found under Chapel Drive in front of the Chapel.

Traditional events sponsored by the Student Government highlight every year. Homecoming, Parent's Day, Cultural events, Class Proms, Senior Class Presents, the AWS Bridal Fair, and many other functions are held for the students enjoyment.

Greek sponsored events also occur yearly. Many students enjoy listening to sorority and fraternity members harmonizing barbershop style at Harmony Hall and singing as a group in the Interfraternity Sing. Spring and Fall Greek Weeks, held each year, offer opportunities for the campus at large to see the Greek System working together.

Not as amusing but quiet as traditional are six week's exams (hourlies) and finals which never cease to plague M.U.'s students.

ADMINISTRATION

The Administration coordinates and directs all phases of University life. Every freshman should be familiar with the members of the administration and with their responsibilities. They are always anxious to meet students, listen to their views, and help them with their problems.

ACADEMIC INFORMATION

Diligent scholarship is a responsibility of the college student; the Freshman, particularly is responsible for taking the required courses, taking sufficient credits, and planning ahead.

CLASSES

Classes are either of 50 or 75 minute duration (the 50 minute classes are conducted on a 3 day-a-week basis and the 75 minute classes on a 2 day-a-week basis). If the instructor is late, students are required to wait 20 minutes for deans, 15 minutes for doctors, and 10 minutes for all instructors before dismissing themselves. There are no automatic "cuts" (absences) for freshmen (with the exception of second semester freshmen who have attained a 3.5 average for the preceding semester). A report is sent into the student's dean if he has more than 3 unexcused absences. Excused absences include illness, death in the immediate family, and participation in University activities at the request of the University authorities. Instructors may penalize students for unexcused absences. Upperclassmen, (soph., jr., sr.) are allowed unlimited cuts in courses classified as non-participation courses (those in which the student does not actively participate as part of the instruction). The University urges all students to attend classes regularly.

EXAMINATIONS

A two hour exam is held at the end of each semester for each course taken. No notes or books are allowed at finals. Two or three exams (called "hourlies") are usually given in each course during the semester. Only a student with a legal excuse will be allowed to make up an exam he has missed.

MARKING SYSTEM

The following symbols are used for marks: A, B, C, D, passing; F, failure; I, incomplete. In computing the scholastic average the numerical values are assigned as follows: A-4, B-3, C-2, D-1, F-0.

DEAN'S SLIPS

All Freshmen doing below "C" level work after the first six weeks of school receive slips from the dean. A copy is also sent to the student's parents. Although a dean's slip has no bearing on the student's final grade, it is advisable for the student to consult with his instructor to find out how he can improve his work.

REPEATS AND DROPOUTS

Both the original grade and the new grade will be posted on the student's transcript when a course is repeated. In computing the overall average the two grades are averaged together.

First semester freshmen are permitted to wait eight weeks before dropping a course. All other students are allowed three weeks. The student's academic advisor and dean must approve this action.

CHANGING COLLEGES

A student wishing to change colleges must have a minimum of a 2.0 overall average. If the student's average is unsatisfactory, he will be placed under the control of the Office of Intermediate Registration (O.I.R.). Under the O.I.R. program a student is given one, or at the most, two semesters to absolve his trial or probationary status and become eligible for admission into the new college. The student must consult his new dean upon transferring colleges.

ACADEMIC AND JUNIOR STANDING

In order to achieve Junior standing a student must maintain an average of "C" with the minimum of 56 semester hours not including P.E., Health, or depending on the college, R.O.T.C. If a student fails to make Junior standing by the end of his fourth semester, he is allowed one semester grace. If he has not achieved Junior standing by the end of this probationary semester, dismissal results.

THE COUNSELING CENTER

The University's Counseling Center is located in Shoemaker Hall and is maintained to assist students not only to better understand themselves but also to develop improved methods for dealing with vocational choices as well as educational and personal problems. The Center provides an extensive program on reading and study skills, given on an individual basis for six weeks, and is offered at the beginning and middle of each semester. When appropriate, psychological tests in the areas of ability, aptitude, interest, and personality are administered. The Advisory and Testing Fee, which all students pay at registration, entitle them to these services without further charge.

TUTORING

Many opportunities for free tutoring are offered by groups on campus. Among these are Alpha Lambda Delta and Phi Eta Sigma, the women's and men's freshman scholastic honoraries. Individual departments also offer tutoring for which a nominal fee may be charged.

HONORS

A freshman who achieves a 3.5 average for his first semester or a 3.5 cumulative average for the year is eligible for membership in a freshman scholastic honorary. Any student attaining a 3.5 semester average is placed on the Dean's List. An Honor's Convocation is held every fall honoring all students who have maintained a 3.5 average or better for the preceding year.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

At least 120 semester hours are required for graduation. An overall average of "C" or 2.0 is required for graduation in all colleges. See the dean of your college to learn its requirements.

For additional academic information, consult the Academic Regulation Booklet published by the University, which may be obtained from the Registrar's Office (N. Admin.).

A bed, a chest of drawers, a desk and chair, and ample closet space has all been provided for your use. The selection of additional accessories such as curtains and bedspreads will be left to you and your roommate. You are allowed to bring with you a radio or record player, but please leave your television, hot plate and electric blanket at home. Linens and towels can be brought from home, or, they may be obtained through a linen supply service. Washing machines and dryers are provided so that you may wash at your convenience.

If it is time to study, there is a study hall or lounge provided in your dormitory. For help during hourlies or exams you will find that many students in the residence offer tutoring services. The dorm files, which contain copies of old exams, term papers, and chapter outlines, will be of great assistance to you. For late evening snacks, many residences have a kitchen where you may keep a supply of food on hand. You may also use the vending machines located in the dormitory that supply you with things such as milk, candy, and cigarettes.

COMMUTERS

TRANSPORTATION

Carpools

All commuters are urged to sign up for carpools in the Armory during registration week. Mimeographed lists of drivers and riders can be obtained in the Student Union.

The University assumes no responsibility for car accidents, so it is most important that drivers have adequate insurance.

Parking

During registration week all cars must be registered. Parking stickers are issued and must be kept on the cars at all times. Failure to do so may result in a $5.00 fine. Between 7:00 A.M. and 4:45 P.M. parking is allowed in all lots other than those marked "reserved at all times". There is a $3.00 fine for parking on unassigned lots during the day.

Buses

The Baltimore-Washington Greyhound buses run Monday through Saturday every hour, (slight changes on Sundays and holidays), with extra buses during rush hours. The buses stop at Bladensburg, Hyattsville, Riverdale, College Park (on Rt. 1 in front of the Varsity Grill), Berwyn, and Plant Industry. D.C. transit buses run between College Park and Mt. Ranier, Langley Park, Silver Spring, and Potomac Park (Hollywood).

Don't Forget

When driving on campus, be sure to obey all Stop signs and speed limits. Pedestrians have the right of way, so be extremely careful—especially between classes!

PLACES TO EAT

Complete meals may be purchased in the Student Union cafeteria, Student Union cardroom, the lower level of the main Dining Hall, and College Park restaurants. The basements of many of the larger classroom buildings are equipped with the automats (for those who are in a hurry), and the Dairy provides snacks and the best (and most original) ice cream available.

PLACES TO STUDY

Daydodgers who wish to study during their spare hours on campus can find peace and quiet in the McKeldin Library, Math Library, and Chemistry Library. Study rooms in the newer dorms may also be convenient, but check with friends first.

For a more informal atmosphere, the Student Union Study Room on the second floor and the Student Union lounges are popular.

UNIVERSITY COMMUTERS' ASSOCIATION

Commuting students may find a sense of belonging and an opportunity to take an active part in University life through the University Commuters' Association. Aside from being primarily a social organization, the U.C.A. provides a wide and varied program through which day-students may participate in the many extra-curricular activities available on our large campus. The U.C.A. serves as a link between the commuter and such activities as the Student Government Association, clubs and intramurals. Students who are interested in serving on an S.G.A. committee may inquire and apply through U.C.A. There has been quite an increasing interest in campus politics among commuters, and this fall finds several commuters serving in key positions in S.G.A. The U.C.A. President serves on the S.G.A. Cabinet and each of the three campus political parties has a U.C.A. representative. Thus, the commuter is well represented in student government.

For those interested in sports, there are both men's and women's teams sponsored by U.C.A. in the intramural leagues as well as a U.C.A. bowling league.

Among the cultural events which commuters may enjoy are a spring banquet, teas, and luncheons featuring guest speakers. Highlighting the social program are parties, hayrides, picnics and dances.

U.C.A. also provides the commuter with worthwhile services. Of special notice are the Weekend Trip Service, new this year, the Carpool Service, and the Dorm Affiliation Project. Students who live on campus and wish to secure rides home on weekends or vacations may make plans by consulting the U.C.A. bulletin board in the Student Union. The Carpool Service is for those who wish to form a carpool or find rides to and from the University with other commuters from the same area. Lists for this purpose may also be found on the U.C.A. bulletin board across from the U.C.A. Den. The Dorm Affiliation Program, initiated last fall, was organized by the Associated Women Students for commuting freshmen women, to acquaint them with dormitory life and bring them closer to the University. Any freshman woman may take part by applying for a dorm "big sister". A tea is held during freshmen orientation at which time the commuter will meet her "big sister" and other commuters. The commuter and her "big sister" may meet for coke dates, and she is free to use the facilities of the dorm during the day to study, relax, or visit with friends.

The recently remodeled U.C.A. Den, center of commuter activity, is located in the basement of the Student Union. The U.C.A. Den provides pleasant and convenient place for students to gather between classes and in the evenings.

Some of the most important benefits from membership in the U.C.A. are the lasting ties of friendship formed through daily social and academic contact.

GREEKS

GREEK LIFE

To a student first entering a University the term Greek may have little or no meaning, yet it is a term he will hear many times. The simplest definition of the term Greek is a student who belongs to either a fraternity or a sorority. This, in turn, may lead to the question, what is a fraternity or sorority? A college Greek organization is a group of women or men joined together for social and educational purposes, and dedicated to common goals and ideals.

The Greek population on our campus plays an important role in the college community. They are active in politics, sports, publications, honoraries and all other facets of college life. Besides their activities on campus, each group supports a nationwide philanthropic project together with other chapters of their fraternity across the nation. Projects vary from helping the blind to aiding an entire mountain settlement.

Although scholarship and activities play a major role in the organization of fraternities and sororities, brotherhood and sisterhood are more adequate words to describe the basis on which these organizations are built.

SORORITY RUSH

Your first introduction to sorority life at the University is an exciting week of rush. Rush is the period of social activity in which sorority women and girls who are interested in sororities may become acquainted. Rushees are also in the process of selecting the sorority in which they will feel most comfortable.

Rush lasts for a week and a half and is divided into several rounds of parties. The first set of parties are known as Open House Teas. During this round, each rushee is required to visit each of the eighteen sorority houses. She is then issued invitations from various houses and she must limit these to eight. After the set of eight parties she must choose four and after the set of four parties the rushee's next step is to limit her invitations to two. The round of two parties is referred to as Preference Teas and it gives the rushee one more chance to meet the sorority women before making her final choice.

Rushing culminates in pledging. Pledgeship is a period of learning about the sorority, helping with the pledge projects, and getting to know new-found sisters. The major emphasis during pledgeship is on scholarship because a girl must have at least a 2.2 average to be initiated into any of Maryland's 18 sororities.

Dear Freshmen Coeds:

It is a great pleasure to welcome you to the University of Maryland on behalf of the Panhellenic Association and every sorority woman on campus. During your college years, you will be discovering your aims in life. You will be formulating the goals you some day hope to achieve and you will be developing the ideals which will guide your actions throughout your future years.

Through active participation in the sorority system, you will be given opportunities to develop socially and personally and you will find the means to help you answer your basic questions, meet your fundamental needs, and provide you with your most enriching and rewarding experiences.

As a Greek you will have an opportunity to experience a complete college education. You will be aided by an extra emphasis on scholarship and you will also experience an extension of interests and your ideas. Through sorority living you will find yourself taking an active part in service projects for your college and your community, you will find an enjoyable social life, and most of all, you will realize all the warmth, fellowship and friendship that engulfs the sorority system. Most important to Greek women is the warm, close, and lasting friendships that come from living with a group of people who truly are your sisters.

As you seek what will be most worthwhile for you at Maryland we hope that you will consider sorority membership. We are looking forward to meeting you during Rush.

Sincerely,
Nancy Chotiner
Panhellenic President

FRATERNITY RUSH

Rush, although it only lasts for a short period, is one of the most important aspects of the fraternity system because it is the life-line of the system. During the rushing period, there is a series of scheduled events including an introduction to rush policies and procedures and an introduction to the individual fraternity houses.

The Interfraternity Council (IFC) has prepared a Rush Booklet introducing the Rushee to the fraternity system and other publicity is distributed throughout the campus. You will also find that fraternity men will be more than willing to answer any questions you may have. Fraternity rush itself consists primarily of both stag and dated parties which give the rushee an opportunity to meet the fraternity members.

Rush ends in Pledgeship. During the pledging period, a young man learns more about his fraternity, accepts responsibility and comes to have a knowledge of the ideals his fraternity holds.

UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

College Park Campus

Dear Freshmen,

It is with great pleasure that I welcome you to the University of Maryland. On behalf of the Interfraternity Council and its twenty-four member fraternities, I shall extend an invitation to you to become a part of the Greek system.

The national fraternities at Maryland, ranging in size from thirty to one hundred members, offer you countless benefits and opportunities. By being a member one develops many close, lifelong friendships, participates in a well-structured intramural sports program and also can achieve academic excellence.

Fraternities are extremely well represented in all phases of extracurricular student life; Student Government Association, varsity athletics, University Theater, and campus publications, just to mention a few.

Pledge programs place an emphasis upon scholastic achievement coupled with growth of character within you, as an individual.

The primary objective your college career is to develop as a more complete man, by combining academics and social life gradually to increase maturity. The fraternity compliments the University in the final fulfillment of this objective.

Leaving you with these thoughts, I hope you will be successful in your college aims and endeavors. I hope that you will sample fraternities for yourself, by participating in rush and joining a fraternity that will give you a lifelong taste of completeness.

Sincerely,
Elwood Stark
IFC President

PANHELLENIC

Panhellenic is the regulating body for the entire sorority system. The Panhellenic Council is composed of two delegates from each of the eighteen sorority houses, however, every sorority woman on campus is a member of the Panhellenic Association. The council provides a forum for the exchange of ideas between sororities and plans worthwhile projects to be carried out through the cooperation of all sorority groups for the betterment of the sorority system.

The council serves as a representative organization which makes the rules concerning membership selection, pledging and initiation with the aid of faculty and administration.

In addition, our campus also has a pledge panhellenic council which serves to coordinate the activities of the pledge classes and to train future members and officers of the Panhellenic Council. The Pledge Panhellenic Council consists of a representative from each pledge class and the president of each pledge class.

Both councils promote intersorority cooperation through such activities as exchange dinners, fireside chats, dances, workshops and retreats.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

The Interfraternity Council (IFC) is the coordinating body of the fraternity system. It functions to strengthen and co-ordinate the activities of the individual houses in a group effort. Each of the twenty-four fraternity houses have one voting delegate to the council. The IFC also sponsors several annual events: IFC Presents, IFC Ball, IFC athletic programs, a tutoring service, IFC rush, and workshops during Fall Greek Week. The highlight of the year is the Interfraternity Ball held at Indian Springs Country Club.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

The Student Government Association is the organ through which students coordinate all student activities and services. During fall registration, each student pays a $12 fee which provides the working capital for the S.G.A. The students themselves, through SGA representatives, determine how this money is allocated, as well as many other policy decisions.

Like the national government, the University has three branches: executive, legislative and judicial.

EXECUTIVE BRANCH

The SGA cabinet determines student policies and represents student opinion to the faculty and administration of the University. Officers and members of the cabinet are elected by the student body.

MEMBERS OF THE CABINET FOR 1965-66

S.G.A. President	Ted Levin
S.G.A. Vice-President	Miller Hudson
S.G.A. Secretary	Margaret Hall
S.G.A. Treasurer	Bob Maddox
Senior Class President	Neil Brayton
Junior Class President	Jay McMillen
Sophomore Class President	Tom Hendrickson
Freshman Class President	(to be elected)
Sorority Representative	Stephanie Jacobs
Fraternity Representative	Wayne Legum
A.W.S. Representative	Tay Kincaid

Men's League Representative Bob Martz
Independent Women's Representative Caren Harnest
Independent Men's Representative John Slade
Commuter's Representative Ralph Conlin

LEGISLATIVE BRANCH

The SGA legislature passes bills which are then sent to the cabinet for action. SGA finances are of primary concern to the legislature. The students determine how money is allocated among the classes and the many student organizations which submit budgets to the Finance Committee for approval. Legislature meetings, like the cabinet, are open to all interested students and suggestions are welcome.

STUDENT COURT

All judicial power held by students is granted by the Faculty Senate Committee on Student Discipline and is vested in several judicial boards. Cases involving student infractions of University regulations or public laws are referred to student judicial boards by the Judiciary Office according to the assigned jurisdictional area of each.

Central Student Court. Central Student Court is staffed to render the judgment of the student body. It is composed of nine members, including fraternity, sorority, residence hall, commuter, male and female representation. Each justice must be a junior or senior and maintain a minimum of a 2.5 cumulative grade-point average. Central Student Court has appellate jurisdiction over other major student judicial boards, hears constitutionality cases and infractions of major University rules.

Student Traffic Court. The Student Traffic Court consists of seven justices, including four men and three women. The Board has jurisdiction over cases involving violation of campus traffic rules and regulations.

COMMITTEES

Membership in most of the SGA Committees is open following spring elections and appointments. A few, however, are open to freshmen in the fall and notices of these openings will be published in the Diamondback sometime during the fall semester. You may apply for all SGA committees in Dean Florestano's office in the Student Union.

Some committees of special interest to freshmen are:

Homecoming. One of the biggest events in the fall is homecoming. Sorority houses and women's dorms build displays in front of their respective residences while fraternities and men's dorms build floats to be entered competition during an extravagant pre-game parade. The game, open houses and a formal dance complete the day. Any student may apply.

Cultural Committee. $1 of each $12 fee paid to the Student Government is allocated to the Cultural Committee. This committee coordinates cultural events all over the University, such as the University theater, Glee Clubs, Gymkana and Flying Follies. In addition, the committee brings famous stars to entertain the student body.

Campus Chest. This committee is composed of representatives of all campus groups which promote projects to raise funds for charity throughout the year. Campus Chest sponsors its own week of activities to raise funds through its Ugly Man Contest and its College Casino.

People to People. People to People is a program sponsored to bring foreign students together with Maryland students. Through its Big Sister-Brother program, social, and cultural events, it helps to orient foreign students to life in the United States. Participation in any aspect of this program offers a rewarding experience.

Student Union Board. The Student Union Board sponsors a variety of social and cultural events. They sponsor speakers, dancers, movies and big name bands, as well as other events of interest.

FOB. The Freshmen Orientation Board sponsors Orientation Week in the Spring and Fall to acquaint new students with the campus through tours, lectures, assemblies, and dances. It is comparable to the two day pre-college program held throughout the summer.

Elections. Members of the Election Board supervise election practices, count ballots and work at the polls. Positions as poll workers will be available during Freshman elections.

Other committees of interest are: Campus Improvements, Who's Who, Parents' Day, Away Weekend, Public Relations, Student Activities, and Traffic. For information concerning any of these committees ask at the SGA office in the Student Union or a member of the SGA.

CAMPUS ELECTIONS

Elections of the president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, A.W.S. representative and Men's League representative for the Class of 1969 and six legislature seats, will be held in the fifth or sixth week of the first semester. Aspiring candidates must submit an application and petition signed by fifty members of the class in order to run for office. Campaigning lasts for two weeks, one week for the primary and one week for the final elections.

General elections are held in March or April. Candidates are nominated by the Old Line, Free State, and Chesapeake Bay Parties at conventions a few weeks prior to elections. Candidacy may also be obtained by submitting to the SGA cabinet a petition with 750 signatures. Complete election rules and procedures can be obtained by contacting the Election Board.

PUBLICATIONS

DIAMONDBACK

Campus, local, and international news is reported daily in the University newspaper, the Diamondback. The News Board, the journalism classes, and members of the newspaper staff report activities, announcements and special events. The News Board recruits its members from students who have previous Diamondback experience. Working on the daily editions accounts for most of this experience.

There is a separate daily staff for each day of the week. A daily editor and a copy chief direct the copyreading, editing, and typing of stories two days in advance of publication. Help is always needed, and since no experience is necessary, freshmen have an ideal opportunity to gain experience and develop their journalistic talent. The business, editorial, and sports staffs complete the picture of the publication of the Diamondback.

The open house teas in the Journalism Building at the beginning of each semester serve to introduce all interested students to Diamondback operations.

TERRAPIN

Information and candid pictures are features of the school yearbook, the TERRAPIN highlights all the interesting events that occur on campus during the school year. Included are pictures of sports events, campus queens, dorm residents, seniors, and sororities and fraternities.

Section editors, copy editors, and photographers make up the TERRAPIN. Students interested in working on the yearbook may apply in the TERRAPIN office in the Journalism Building.

WMUC

Campus radios set their dials on 650 to tune in the University radio station, WMUC. An affiliate of NBC and a member of the Intercollegiate Broadcasting Co., WMUC broadcasts 24 hours a day. Special programs, such as those during big sports events and elections, focus attention on major campus activities. Try-outs for disc jockeys and announcers are open to both men and women in the WMUC office in building FF in the gulch.

CALVERT REVIEW

Original poetry, short stories, essays, and art by University students fill the pages of the Calvert Review. This literary magazine has been published semi-annually since its establishment in 1963. Awards of $20 are given in each category: poetry, prose, and art. Interested students should submit their work to the Calvert Review office in Taliaferro Hall.

M-BOOK

Hopefully, this publication, the M Book, which you are now reading, will be the Freshman's "Bible". In handbook form, the M Book compiles and organizes all the information a new student on campus would want to know. It lists hours, dates, activities, phone numbers, and regulations which the freshman cannot possibly learn all at once, or for that matter, learn during his four years at Maryland. This compact University encyclopedia includes everything a newcomer needs to know to make his adjustment to college life a pleasant and profitable experience.

The M Book staff is mainly composed of Freshmen and Sophomores with a few upperclassmen in editorial positions. All freshmen are urged to apply for work on the staff, especially if you are considering furthering your participation in college publications, since this is excellent background experience. Applications may be picked up and returned to Dean Florestano's office in the Student Union.

ENTERTAINMENT and EVENTS

SGA CULTURAL EVENTS

Throughout the year a variety of cultural activities are sponsored by the SGA.

Among the events offered are five performances by the National Symphony Orchestra with Howard Mitchell conducting. The first performance will be October 28 in conjunction with the Goldovsky Grand Opera Company and will be "Don Giovanni" in concert. Other productions include a Sibelius festival December 9; Ralph Votapek, pianist, February 17; Itak Pearlman, violinist, March 17; and Andre Watts, pianist, April 14.

Other SGA sponsored cultural activities include "The Music of Richard Rogers," November 18; Ferrante and Teicher, January 12; Carlos Montoya, February 23; Hal Holbrook in "Mark Twain Tonight", March 24; and the Robert Shaw Chorale, April 3. Some of these dates are tentative; watch The Diamondback for further notice.

All SGA cultural events are free to students upon presentation of their I.D. cards.

SPOTLIGHT SERIES

Sponsored by the Student Union Board, this is a series of approximately four shows each semester. Each show features a well-known vocalist, instrumentalist, or comedian, such as Josh White, Jr., The Charlie Byrd Trio, and Max Morath Ragtime Quartet. The series is extremely popular with the student body; admission is by I.D. card.

VARIOUS PRESENTS

During the school year four "presents" or programs are sponsored by the Senior Class, the Hill Area Council, Interfraternity Council, and IFC and Panhellenic Council.

Last year entertainment such as Ella Fitzgerald, Bud and Travis, the Smothers Brothers, and the Boston Pops Symphony was presented.

IFC Presents and Hill Area Presents are usually sponsored during the first semester.

Senior Class Presents is the high point of Spring Weekend in May.

CLASS ACTIVITIES

In addition to their prom, which was off-campus for the first time last year, the Freshman Class sponsors a Sadie Hawkins Day dance for all students.

The Sophomore Class Prom is held early in the spring each year.

At the Junior Class Prom and Banquet, Miss Maryland is crowned.

Seniors end their four years at the University with a lovely formal prom. The Senior Class also sponsors one of the year's top events, the "Senior Class Presents." This event, which takes place during Spring Weekend, has featured such prominent entertainers as Peter, Paul and Mary, and Ella Fitzgerald.

HOMECOMING

Homecoming is the largest campus event of the football season. The fronts of women's residences and sororities are decorated for competition, while fraternities and men's dorms construct elaborate floats which are displayed in the big pre-game parade. The residences have open-house for returning alumni and visitors. The Homecoming formal dance brings the exciting day to an end.

GREEK WEEK

There are two Greek Weeks—one in the fall and one in the spring.

Greek Week in the fall is of a serious nature and includes such activities as the rededication program in the chapel, various workshops and philanthropic activities. Harmony Hall, which consists of barbershop quartet competition among the fraternities and sororities, is also presented during the fall Greek Week.

During the spring Greek Week members of sororities and fraternities participate in a variety of amusing, enjoyable contests and activities.

Any type of contest is possible. Activities in the past have ranged from the ever-popular chariot races, phone-booth stuffing, tug-of-war, bike races, hat snatching and pie eating contests.

There have also been sports car rallies, a milking contest and the Beetle Race which involved carrying a Volkswagen placed across two logs.

One evening during the week Tri-Delta sorority sponsors IF Sign, a singing competition between fraternities and sororities.

BLOOD DRIVE

Three days of the fall and spring are annually set aside for the Red Cross Blood Drive sponsored by AOPi sorority and TEP fraternity. Students donate blood in the Student Union; and refreshments are served afterward. Trophies are awarded to the largest group donors.

PARENTS DAY

This year, Parents Day will be Saturday, October 2. All students may invite their parents to the football game, after which the residences have open-houses. Usually, the IFC Presents is scheduled for that night.

CAMPUS CHEST

A student committee overseeing campus charity contributions and allocating funds to various foreign, domestic, and student charities, Campus Chest is active raising money throughout the school year. In addition to the committee's activities, such as the Miss Campus Chest and the Ugly Man on Campus contests, each organization sponsors an event to raise money for this committee. These events range from car washes to trophy polishes to auctioning pledges.

Campus Chest Week in the spring highlights the committee's activities and sponsors many more fund-raising events. An annual highlight is Campus Casino, which features gambling for charity.

UNIVERSITY THEATRE

During the school year University Theatre presents four major productions.

These plays usually include a musical, a comedy and a more serious piece.

Last year the plays presented included "Anything Goes," "Waltz of the Toreadors," "The Knight of the Burning Pestle," and "Witness for the Prosecution."

Open try-outs are held for all of the performances.

University students can attend the productions by presenting their I.D. cards at the Student Union Box Office. Non-students can also buy tickets for a minimum price.

CHAPEL CHOIR

Two traditional concerts are performed annually by the Chapel Choir. The ELIJAH will be performed November 23, the Tuesday before Thanksgiving in the new music building on campus. The other traditional performance is Handel's "Messiah" which will be performed the Sunday before Christmas in the Chapel.

In early December the Chapel Choir will perform Brahms's "Requiem," in conjunction with the Baltimore Symphony under the direction of Dr. Herman Adler at the Lyric Theatre. Fague Springmann, assistant professor of music and director of the Chapel Choir, will be the soloist for this performance.

Chapel Choir is open to anyone on campus who enjoys singing. There are no auditions.

MADRIGAL SINGERS

The University of Maryland Madrigal Singers are undergraduate students with a deep interest in instrumental and choral works of the Renaissance. Since the group's establishment in 1958, under the leadership of Rose Marie Grentzer, the repertoire of the ensemble had broadened and now includes early and contemporary American music and folk songs.

According to performance practices of the period instruments such as the recorder, lute, guitar, clavichord, rebec, and harpsichord are used. Colorful costumes of the period are also worn.

The Madrigal singers perform in numerous engagements including a campus concert. They have performed on radio and television. In the winter of 1964-65 they toured Europe, singing as they went.

New members are always welcome to the group.

MARYLAND MARCHING BAND

Students interested in joining the band may audition in the first week of school since practice begins early. This unit presents half-time shows at football games, executing intricate marching routines. After football season, the Marching Band splits up into the Concert Band, the Symphonic Band, and the Varsity Band.

CONCERT BAND

The elite of the Marching Band comprise the Concert Band which tours the state during semester break. It also presents a few performances throughout the year at Ritchie Coliseum.

WOMEN'S CHORUS AND MEN'S GLEE CLUB

Practicing and performing as one unit, these groups present various programs throughout the year. Well known for their singing perfection, they accompanied the National Symphony Orchestra last year.

DRAMA WING

The Drama Wing of the Department of Speech was formed in 1957 under the direction of E. Thomas Starcher, assistant professor of speech and drama.

The purpose of this group is to perform for PTA's and civic organizations who are interested in the behaviour problems of children from 4-18.

An essential part of the program is the discussion period which follows each performance.

Anyone can apply for this group, but must serve two semesters to qualify for membership. Drama Wing averages two performances each week during an active semester. Those students interested in joining this group cannot participate in any other extra curricular activity that will conflict with performance time.

FLYING FOLLIES

The singers, dancers, musicians, and comedians of this variety troupe exhibit their entertaining talent to army camps and installations in the area. The Follies, which has about 30 members, presents one campus show in the spring.

AQUALINERS

Both men and women compose this synchronized swimming group. They spend the entire year practicing and perfecting their skills; the culmination of their efforts comes in the spring when the Aqualiners present their annual show. The performance is based on a central theme; each act portrays some phase of this theme.

GYMKANA

The men and women of this troupe combine their amazing skills on apparatus such as the parallel bars, the horse, the rings, high bar, uneven parallels, balance beam, and on the mats to perform for high schools in the surrounding area. In April, they bring their show home to Cole Field House, greatly impressing the student spectators. There are approximately forty members of the troupe divided into thirteen groups. All freshmen are welcome to join.

SPRING WEEKEND

The first annual spring weekend took place during the 1965 spring semester.

The entertainment catered to all tastes. A pep rally and spectator sports such as lacrosse and baseball games, a hootenanny and a college casino are only a few of the activities highlighted during this weekend.

A guest entertainer also appears during this weekend; last year it was Ella Fitzgerald.

BRIDAL FAIR

The annual Bridal Fair, sponsored by AWS in April, is anxiously awaited by many University women.

A variety of booths, including housewares, china, crystal, silver, wedding invitations, photography, luggage, jewelry, and catering can be visited.

Male students who accompany their girlfriends can stop by the men's department and also admire the automobile display.

At last year's Bridal Fair, two new booths, interior decoration and real estate, were added.

The evening is highlighted by a fashion show of bridal gowns and trousseau. Last year Hutzler's Department Store sponsored the show.

BRIDE AND HOME magazine thinks Bridal Fair is a unique activity and wrote two articles concerning the event in their publication.

This event is free and is open to the public. You don't have to be engaged to attend.

ATHLETICS

Maryland University is unsurpassed in varsity athletics. The University is a member of the Atlantic Coast Conference (ACC), the Amateur Athletic Association of America, and the National Collegiate Athletic Association, and cooperates with other national organizations to promote amateur athletics.

The Cole Activities Building is the heart of the athletic department and boasts a modern gymnasium, an olympic-size swimming pool, training facilities for indoor sports, numerous physical education laboratories and a modern arena with a seating capacity of 13,000. Mr. William Coby, director of athletics, works diligently with the head coaches of basketball, football, swimming, wrestling, baseball, and tennis, toward the extension of athletics at the University. Maryland facilities continue in the Armory, which houses the indoor track and rifle teams and basketball courts for intramurals. Byrd stadium has a track circling the football gridiron. This is not to mention athletic fields, tennis courts, a golf course, baseball diamonds, and separate facilities for women in Preinkert.

FOOTBALL

This year Coach Tom Nugent and staff will present the same quick, hard hitting, and colorful football team that Maryland fans have seen in the past. Ken Ambrusko, Jim Corcoran, and Ed Pine, along with the rest of the team, look forward to Nugent's platoon system against a rough schedule including Navy and Penn State.

SOCCKER

Maryland's soccer team, under the guidance of Coach Doyle Royal, remains a top contender in the Atlantic Coast Conference. With gold awards given to twenty of last year's players, this year's team hopefully will have an outstanding season.

BASKETBALL

The greatest assets of the basketball team are its natural ability and youth; these assets carried the team to great heights last year. Experience gained in the VPI Invitational Tournament and the ACC Tournament should help this year's team immensely.

Dominating Coach Bud Millikan's team are Neil Brayton, Jay McMillan, and Joe Harrington, each with impressive records. Their continuance of good ball playing should be indicative of future success for the Terps.

WRESTLING

Coach Sully Krouse's Terps dominate the ACC in wrestling. This year's team promises to break all records; most of last year's wrestlers such as Tom Greiger, Olaf Drozdof will return and are expected to continue their winning ways. Bob Kopnisky made Maryland history last year by becoming the first terrapin wrestler to win a NCAA championship.

LACROSSE

Maryland's lacrosse team, under the direction of Coach Al Heagy, is second only to Navy in nationwide collegiate lacrosse. Eleven lettermen are on the roster to start the season's opener against Maryland Lacrosse Club.

Ten of Maryland's fifteen games will be played at home. The team should have a challenging year since its schedule includes Virginia, Army and Johns Hopkins.

TRACK AND FIELD

ACC broad jumper champion Mike Cole was the high point scorer on last year's team. This year he will be backed in the jumps by Don Smith and Bob Schnetzka: Steve Lamb in the 440 and Ramsy Thomas in the 880 are top running stars.

Dick Sheer, Tom Finly, and Ed Bury spearhead a fine group of hurdlers and pole vaulters including ACC champions Ed Bennett (indoors) and Stu Markly (outdoors). Twenty returning lettermen will make this year's relays truly exciting.

Coach James Kehoe is in his nineteenth year at the University.

GOLF

Under the able guidance of Coach Frank Cronin, this year's golf team should prove to be one of great agility and spirit. Cronin's team will face such opponents as Dartmouth in games which hopefully will repeat its good showing of last year. Frank Gorelko will lead this year's team.

BASEBALL

Coach Jack Jackson will direct this year's baseball team. Top hitter Dick Horton and top pitchers Brad Frost and Ike Issacson should be able to lead the team to victory.

TENNIS

Last year's undefeated tennis team will again reach for the ACC championship this spring, under the direction of Coach Doyle Royal. With netmen such as Jim Busick, the host singles player in the conference, and Lew Dobbs, Ken Chapman, Vaughn Baker, Richard Gains, and Roger Flax, the team will challenge such opponents as Dartmouth, Syracuse, and Clemson.

SWIMMING

The Terps swimming team will again aim at the Eastern Regional Swimming Championship at Yale, under the direction of Coach Bill Campbell. The seven major components of this team are: Phil Denkevitz, Bill Nullmyer, Eric Lampe, Bill Deheny, Bruce Phillips, Raoul Rebillard and Doc Dunphy.

M-CLUB

Maryland athletes who have earned the right to wear a varsity letter are honored by membership in the M-club. It is a social group, but also sponsors such awards as the Outstanding Intramural Athletes of the Year and athletic scholarships. The organization was established at Maryland to bring together the outstanding athletes.

INTRAMURALS

Athletics form an integral part of campus life; although varsity sports are more in the limelight, intramurals are marked by outstanding skill and fierce competition.

Under the auspices of Coach Jim Kehoe and the direct supervision of Raymond Mullis, intramural sports on campus have risen from obscurity to widely-publicized events. Intramurals are open to Greeks and Independents in three respective leagues—the fraternity, open and dorm leagues. Such team sports as football, volleyball, basketball, softball, bowling, and swimming; and individual sports such as table tennis, golf, wrestling, weight lifting, badminton, tennis and cross country are included in the program.

It is highly recommended that each freshman explore the possibilities of intramural activities.

WRA

The Women's Recreational Association is a student organization that plans and sponsors many recreational, sport, and social activities. WRA consists of officers elected by University women, committee chairmen, interest group and club leaders, and intramural managers from each dorm, sorority, and the Daydodgers. Every University woman is automatically a member of WRA and should take advantage of the program offered to her. WRA provides a chance to have fun, make new friends, and become a part of campus life.

Intramural games between dorm, sorority, and commuter teams are played throughout the year. WRA advocates good sportsmanship along with competition.

WRA interest groups offer instruction, a chance to improve skills and competition with other colleges. You do not have to be a professional to participate, either!

Clubs add to the variety of the WRA program—the modern dance club, aqualiners, and the fencing club are popular coed groups. Each presents its own spectacular productions both on and off campus.

Your WRA representative will keep you well informed of its activities. WRA welcomes anyone that is interested; contact Miss Ethel Kessler in Preinkert Field House.

Annual events that WRA sponsors are: Sports Day, Freshman Picnic, WRA-M-Club Banquet, and WRA Spring Banquet.
